The Families for Inclusive Education Project will:

- support families of students with disability to have a clear vision for their son or daughter and become more informed about inclusive education and current inclusive education policies,
- help families develop communication and advocacy skills so they can work effectively with their child's school,
- build families' confidence and support networks so they can sustain their efforts as valued partners in their child's education,
- provide information and resourcing to service providers including local schools.

Alongside the workshops, CRU will develop and disseminate resources/case studies, host webinars, foster peer support networks and provide information and individual consultations to families and others who support the education of students with disability.

WORKSHOP OVERVIEW

Day 1 (Half Day) - Setting the Direction for Success

- Key elements of school inclusion
- How to develop a positive vision to set goals for school and life
- Inclusive education policies and supports
- How to communicate and work with your school

Day 2 (Full Day) - Working Effectively with your Child's School

- Building and sustaining an effective relationship with your child's school
- What good inclusion looks like – from the classroom to the playground
- Communication tips and advocacy skills
- Overcoming challenges and who can help

Families are encouraged to attend both workshops wherever possible. Regional families (who have a students enrolled in a Queensland State School and must travel to attend a workshop) can apply for financial support to attend the closest workshop. To apply for this assistance, contact CRU.
